

Automobile Air Purification

pureAir MOTION is a compact air purification solution for your vehicle that conveniently fits in a cupholder. MOTION uses an effective Cluster Ion Technology to remove particulate and odours from your breathing space and can even reduce bacteria and viruses. With proper care your pureAir MOTION will last for years.

Cluster Ion Technology replicates the way nature cleans the air by using positive and negative ions to create hydroxyls which rob airborne microbes of the hydrogen necessary for them to survive. In addition, this natural balance of positive and negative charges helps to reduce particles from the air, thereby making the air fresh and healthy, not only for your nose, but especially for your airways!
